e. PLANNING & ZONING: EUGENE MARTIN (a.k.a. HONEYBEAR)

1) Site Improvement Bond

Attorney Schuk explained that a bond is similar to an insurance policy to make sure that the shoreland restoration improvements are completed as submitted to and approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission. The amount is determined by the engineer's cost estimate of the project.

Board discussion ensued. The bond does not include impact(s) on private roads. The bond would continue to be valid if the property is sold as long it is not expired. Discussion continued regarding a 30-day concrete refuse clean-up notice issued by the Building Inspector. Offense fines are between $1,365 and $5,000. Nuisance action takes a long time in circuit court and it can be costly. A bond is controlled by the insurance company. The site plan deadline is upon expiration of the DNR permit. Other avenues, such as recording a memorandum of agreement citing the developer agreement, covenants and restrictions, were brought up but referred to the next meeting's agenda.

Nancy Crabtree participated in public comment.

Attorney Schuk stated that the Board already approved the site plan so the property owner has vested rights. He also advised against conditions on a rezone.

there was a need for extra time to deposit funds received on Fridays, since the Clerk/Treasurer already has a Deputy, has in the past also been provided temporary backup help during tax season, and police officers are available to make such deposits. e. OTHER:

1) July 4th Printing

Village President Ken Monroe turned the floor over to Helen Owens, owner of Copies Prints Plus in Lake Geneva, the printer for the Fourth of July advertisements. Ms. Owens stated that she wanted to be on the agenda to register a complaint about President Monroe. Trustee Holder agreed. Attorney Schuk stated that she could proceed.

Ms. Owens stated that she has been a resident of Pell Lake for seventeen years, has donated to "Kids Day Out" and provided printing for the fourth of July at cost for the Village. She reported three complaints against President Monroe:

- a) She was promised that the Village would widen the ditch by her home in exchange for culvert work that would ease her neighbors' flooding. She stated that the culverts were put in but the ditch was not widened.
- b) She alleged that President Monroe told others in the past that she did not support the town because the address she was using was Genoa City when her business was located in Pell Lake.
- c) She called Chief Cole as a courtesy to let him know about a June 20 memorial motorcycle ride through the Village. Officer Domino advised President Monroe. President Monroe informed her that she would need a special permit. This was six weeks before the event. He promised to drop off the application and as of two days before the event, the application was not given to her. President Monroe apologized for his forgetfulness. He eventually gave her the application for the Village and notified her that she would also need a permit from Walworth County. A representative from Walworth County stated that she did not need a permit and she didn't understand why the Village would require one. Ms. Owens feels she is being harassed. Ms. Owens returned the paperwork to President Monroe without completing the form.

Since the last alleged incident, Ms. Owens stated that she has heard from three people that President Monroe stated that the Village would no longer use Copies Prints Plus. She said that is abuse of his power. She stated that the July 4th advertising is at cost and affects her employees. She also stated that she later found the special events application on the Village's website and questioned why President Monroe did not direct her there in the first place.

1) 2014 AUDIT

(a) Audit Presentation by Village Auditor

Patrick Romenesko, Village Auditor, distributed to the Board the 2014 Audit Report, Management Letter and Opinion Letter.

The Auditor reviewed the Management Letter, which reported on the following key items:

(1) Accounting Practices

Since the Village's first audit year 2012, the financial statements have evolved from cash basis to modified accrual basis following the GAAP (Generally Accepted Accounting Principles) for the Village's reporting. The auditor has an unqualified opinion of the statements. Of all 34 of the auditor's municipalities, all 34 include this analysis.

(2) Adjustments Proposed

The Auditor recommended that the Village approve an internal transfer of funds from the Water Fund to the underfunded Sewer Fund in the amount of $1,222,250. The Water Fund is regulated by the PSC. The Wis. Stats. allow for such a transfer of funds from the Utility. Although the Village raised sewer rates last year, it is not enough to pay back the Water Fund for the Sewer Fund deficit.

(3) Employee Pension Reporting Requirements

Future reporting would include a liability for future benefits from employee pensions. This new requirement will affect how the financial statements look.

(4) Internal Control

This language is standard for governmental bodies that do not have a CPA on staff. Of all 34 of the auditor's municipalities, this language is present as the auditor prepares the audited financial statements.

Subsequently, the Auditor reviewed key areas of the Audit Report, of which the Utility and General Funds were combined into one Audit Report this year. Mr. Romenesko spoke of the Impact Fees, Assigned Fund Balances, Cash Flow, and Outstanding and Long Term Debt.

Trustee Grolle asked questions of the auditor of which he responded relative to bank collateral, impact fees designation, capital assets, and schedule of expenditures.

Upon no further questions from the Village Board, the Audit presentation concluded.

d. OTHER

1) Hilltop Snowplowing

Trustee Holder, Chair of the Public Works Committee, asked the audience if they had selected a Hilltop Snowplowing spokesperson to answer the Public Works Committees questions as follows:

- What have you done since the board denied plowing your road to address the problem?
- Why is Hilltop the only private road that needs a snowplowing agreement with the village?
- Why should the village give an interest-free loan for snowplowing?
- If a Hilltop property goes to sheriff's sale and a special assessment is not collectible, what would Hilltop residents do?

Public Comment: Susan Bernstein stated that she was selected as spokesperson for the Hilltop Road property owners. In lieu of answering the questions directly, Ms. Bernstein read aloud a report outlining the history of the property, an emergency in 1998 without access, road reconstruction without dedication, and a 2015 timeline letting residents know about the Village's position to no longer snowplow Hilltop Road. A copy of this report was not given to the clerk.

- Ms. Bernstein stated that the property owners were notified before and after the meetings of the Board to deny private road snowplowing. She received no response from the out of state Hilltop property owners.
- Ms. Bernstein stated that Lakewood Estates has private roads, but it is a gated community. She stated that Morning Glory, Fitch and Jade are also private roads that services approximately four homes each. Hilltop services approximately 19 properties and is used as a thoroughfare to Nippersink guest cottages.
- Ms. Bernstein stated that she contact Madero Landscaping, the private subcontractor, who indicated that the village did not pay for these services until January taxes were received.
- Ms. Bernstein stated that the Village pays for razes at a much higher rate which is subject to foreclosure. She added that Pell Lake upfront costs were paid by the village.
